TABLE OF CONTENTS

Louisiana State University at Shreveport is many things: a two-year branch of one of the nation's greatest universities, a complex of handsome new facilities where novice and scholar exchange ideas and both profit from the interaction, a place for learning and friendship, contemplation and understanding, discipline and growth. It is to the men and women on this campus who are actively involved in the process of education, that the 1970 Bagatelle is respectfully and appreciatively dedicated.

*... if time were not a moving thing and idled by like oak leaves on an autumn day ...
 then maybe one could stop and look to see the faces that you meet ... and look at life with eyes less strained by frowns
 ... if life would flow less fast
 ... and time would falter or if time would stop ...*

*if yesterdays were made of thoughts of smiles . . .
 and hours all too short
 . . . forgotten
 . . . now marked off as days of waiting and hours playing cards and cutting class
 and faces walking down a crowded hall
 and searching minds
 instead of empty looks . . .
 then college would be more than scribbled marks that measure minds
 in terms of A's and F's*

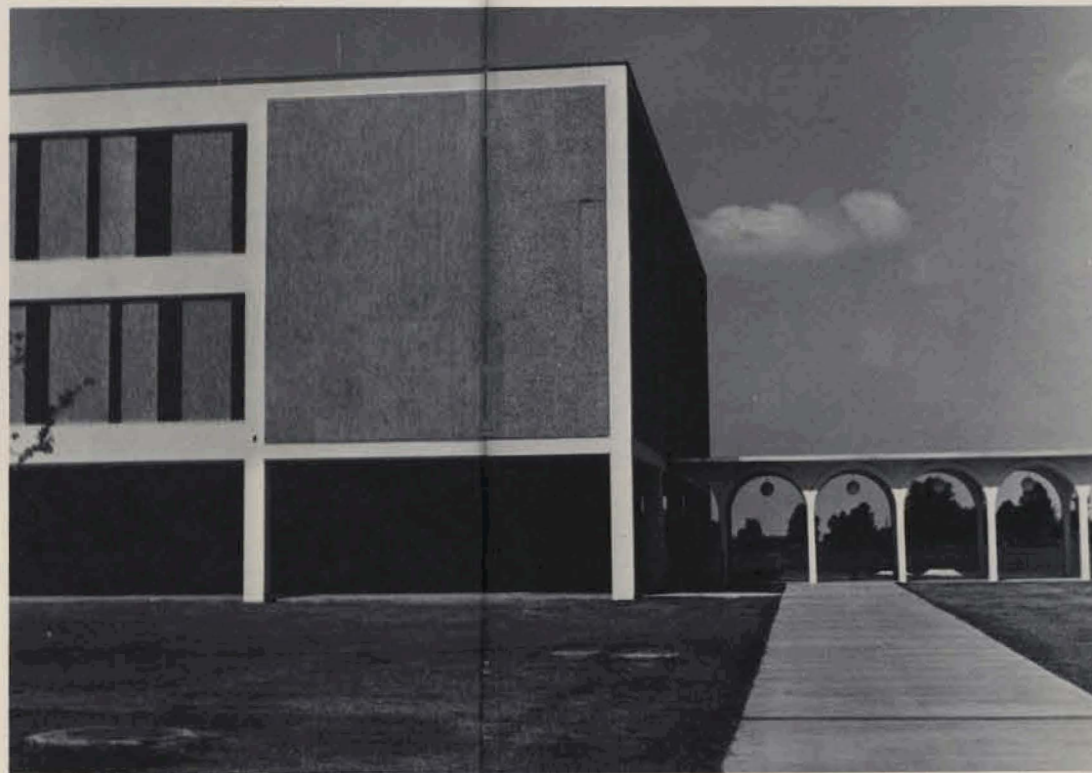

*if thoughts could never be reclaimed . . .
 as time cannot be held or pushed away
 . . . but merely led to other thoughts then died . . .
 the present would be all the time there is
 and past would fade
 and future never come*

*if separate instants ever are recalled . . .
 and recollected
 with a subtle smile . . .
 then times of no importance will stand out
 and be remembered
 . . . solemnity
 in empty passageways
 . . . a moment lost
 somewhere within a thought
 . . . a day
 that was more beautiful than class and thus kept you away
 . . . the cumbersome routines of measured hours
 relaxed
 by thankful moments of relief that help to break monotonous trains of thought and fit
 to form
 the capsule of a day*

*... if laughter were a more familiar sound
then college would be more than people milling
... and rushing
never noticing ...*

*but people are machines and cannot speak
and rarely stop to think unless required
to look ...
to see beyond another's face*

*if image and experience would fuse then time would stop
 for solitary thoughts
 when only setting suns
 and trees are real
 and life is time
 to wander and to think
 . . . going from day to day
 . . . moving
 always upward*

*if life would flow less fast
 there would be time
 . . . to listen
 to the sounds that silence makes
 . . . to stop
 and look until you really see* stand still and look until you really see

THE DEAN'S MESSAGE

This is to express my personal greetings and regards to the students of LSU-Shreveport. As the newest campus in the LSU System, LSU-Shreveport has made an auspicious start toward developing into a great University Campus. The University Administration intends to promote the growth of LSU-Shreveport during the 1970's with all the resources at its command.

In this book you will see pictures of a very fine faculty and staff and an outstanding student body. During our short history, we have enjoyed working with many very capable student leaders who have helped to establish a number of clubs and activities. These represent the beginnings of an LSU-Shreveport tradition. As we secure more facilities on the campus, more activities may be developed. These will help to provide students with leadership training and non-academic experience necessary for a fully developed personality.

At the time this yearbook is released, many of our students will be making plans to move on to other colleges or to employment. We wish them success as they go to face new opportunities and possibilities in our world.

Sincerely,

Donald E. Shipp

The Board of Supervisors is the administrative body of Louisiana State University. Each of the 14 members is appointed by the Governor for 14 year terms. The Board is the University's representative in the Louisiana Legislature. LSU is in its hundredth year, and the Board has set up other campuses throughout the state: New Orleans, Eunice, Alexandria, and Shreveport. The Board is composed of LSU graduates, and it is their duty to formulate the policies of the University which are executed by the Administration. The responsibility of supervising the education of LSU's students is fulfilled by the Board and the Administration. Only by their guidance can LSU maintain its high standards and remain as one of the most outstanding universities in the nation.

LIBRARY

Library is overdue books ... quiet ... forgetting your ID when you have to check out a book ... outside readings ... having your books checked ... dropping a card catalog tray ... getting lost ... here? ... finding out your one last resource is checked out ... books and berries ...

AGRICULTURE AND HOME ECONOMICS

Sleeping through slide shows ... why it is important to be kind to our animal friends ... it looks like trash, but to some it is an esoteric scene of art ... learning the fine points of artificial insemination ... burning up the textile labs ... farmers ... having your sculpture in F.A. 51 collapse ... how a happy home-maker is a happy person ...

John G. Hall
Chairman

Ann Terzia

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Watching the paramecia eat the amoeba ... forgetting the difference between a rhizoid and a rhizome ... formaldehyde all over your hands ... embarrassing ... getting infected from a pneumococcus culture ... it's alive ... I'm not touching it while it's alive ... confusing the spleen with the gall bladder ... dropping $500 microscopes and slicing your thumb with your lab kit ... algae—or as the students call it "creeping crud" ...

ENGINEERING GRAPHICS

Drawing a scale model perfectly—but to the wrong scale ... losing your T-square ... falling off your stool ... spilling ink over a final draft ... sticking your thumb with a compass ... blah ... drawing screws ... drawing a 12½ inch line with a 12 inch ruler ...

William Borders

MATHEMATICS

Finding the answers in the back of the book after you've flunked the course ... forgetting the quadratic equations ... XYZ ... paper graders making mistakes ... dropping negative signs ... word problems ... FORTRAN ... programming the computer so that it blows a fuse ... and other garbage ... it took man thousands of years to derive all that stuff, and they expect me to learn it in one semester ...

SOCIAL STUDIES

Fifteen points off on your map test for putting London in Ireland ... learning where George Washington slept ... man really is a social animal ... required ... after taking Louisiana History it makes you wonder how Napoleon ever got 15 million dollars out of Jefferson ... the Battle of Bunker Hill was actually Breed's Hill ... finding out Catherine the Great did not die of natural causes ... realizing merry old England wasn't always merry—but it sure is old ... it's a good thing I wasn't born 20 years later—that's 20 more years of history to learn ...

FACES AND NAMES

1970

These are the faces one sees as he walks through the halls. These are the individuals who made the college what it was in 1969-1970. If the year was a failure—blame them. If it was a success—congratulate them.
 Of the following 850 faces, a few attempted to create a university, a few watched, the majority came to class and then went home.

SEPTEMBER

Registration was held September 15-17 with 1435 students enrolled. Each person went through the procedure of filling out a packet and stopping at tables to pay fees and get class cards. The game of registration took only about an hour and a half; everyone went past go and paid $90. After writing that nine digit number known as a social security number twenty times, it finally became meaningful. And once again the halls were filled with students. Each student had to purchase texts from the bookstore to aid him in his studies. Various clubs reorganized and elected officers after the summer vacation. Circle K sponsored a street dance on the LSUS parking lot. The function was open to all LSUS students and their dates. The heavy music was provided by the Rockin' Red Eyes. Also beginning during the month were various football teams—both male and female. The sophomore girls and the freshman girls organized for the Powder Puff game. The boys chose up sides for the intramural games.

OCTOBER

October was ablaze with the Student Government Association election campaigns. There were two sophomore tickets: Fire headed by Georgia Scheen and the Fifth headed by Kevin Abel. Only one freshman ticket was presented with an independent running for treasurer. The Fire ticket sponsored a bonfire and poster party to promote their ticket's name. The library building was plastered with posters of every description. The month of October was marked with the first national moratorium. Many LSUS students and some faculty members wore black armbands. Later that day white bands appeared. At Free Speech Alley that day a large crowd gathered to hear both sides of the issue presented. Halloween came and Gamma held a party. Those who were present were in such a state as to enjoy the band and wood burning fireplace. Maps were made directing guests to the location. All through the month the Puffing Powder Girls practiced pigskin punting.

NOVEMBER

The Powder Puff game between the freshmen and the sophomores was held at the Woodlawn practice field. The freshmen stomped the sophomores 32-0. The SGA election was held with only 218 out of 1435 people voting. The Fire ticket and (naturally) the uncontested freshman ticket won. An inaugural ball featuring Irma Thomas was held at the 40 and 8 club for the incoming SGA officers. Circle K sponsored a cross-country car rally. J. P. Strain came in first with Lee Payne second. The Biology Club took a field trip to Kisatchie National Forest to obtain specimens for the lab. School was out for the Thanksgiving holidays on November 26.

DECEMBER

Classwork resumed December 1 after the Thanksgiving vacation. The Bagatelle beauty elections were held December 15. The student body in an again apathetic voting count elected 6 out of 33 nominees. The two top positions went to Earlyne Lehnertz as Miss LSU-S and Kay Olin as Miss Bagatelle. Intramural football games were held this month. Out of all the teams competing, the Juniors came out on top beating the IPT's in the final game. Phi Sigma Chi, the first social fraternity at LSU-S, was formed. The fraternity was sponsored by Jim Miller, a social studies instructor. SGA sponsored a computer dating service for a quarter. The annual Gamma Christmas ceremony was held on December 16. The festivities were complete with music and that jolly old soul, Santa, alias Bill Wisby. The faculty had a Christmas party the last day before Christmas vacation. The Bagatelle staff had a party in the office also. Classes ended at noon on December 20 for the holidays.

JANUARY

Classwork resumed January 5 after the Christmas holidays. Throughout January Circle K distributed 1969 yearbooks to various businesses and community leaders in order to promote LSU-S. A student committee in conjunction with the administration formed a new dress regulation policy—anything goes. Anything that is unless some instructor feels your clothing is objectionable. Slacks became abundant across the campus. Delta Omicron Mu, a veteran's social fraternity, was formed in January. Each member must be a veteran or be on active duty. The grueling ritual of final exams was again repeated for the Fall semester. A shortened semester break gave students an opportunity to relax after exams. Everyone hoped the postman would be deterred by either rain, sleet, or gloom of night. Registration was again held on the 28th through 30th during which everyone Mickey Moused his way through forms and occasionally ill-advised advisors. Total enrollment for the Spring semester was 1252.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

FEBRUARY

Ground Hog Day came and went. Whoopie! The Spring Semester officially began on February 5. After only a week of school we were out again for a four day Mardi Gras weekend. With New Orleans 385 miles away, most LSUS students celebrated at home. Then back to school just in time to celebrate Valentine's Day. Everyone purposely overlooked Friday the Thirteenth. Throughout the month various organizations were not (for the most part) idle. The SGA began to visit local civic clubs to promote LSUS. Intramural basketball teams were formed and practice at local courts was begun. On February 15 ten women were initiated into Gamma Sigma Omega in a ceremony at Kay Olin's home and new catalogue regulations concerning attendance went into effect. Spring Semester meant no Saturday classes. The New Almagest staff (actually still the old staff plus Steve—Sandy) was announced. Student government elections were held to elect a new president for the Freshman class. Marvin Rubenstein won the presidency of the class and Rod Owen won the vice presidency. By the way, if anyone cares, February 21 was a full moon.

MARCH

The intramural basketball games continued on the hard court. Everyone began looking forward to the Easter vacation at the end of the month. St. Patrick's Day, March 17, was celebrated by each student's wearing of the green, except for one poor fool who forgot and was pinched black and blue. Mid-semester exams began and the entire student body panicked. Students were known to burn three quarts of grade A midnight oil. Gamma sponsored the Easter festivities at the Shriners' Hospital. Speakers continued their crusade to promote LSUS to the Shreveport - Bossier area.

APRIL

On April 3 the Coke machines exploded sending four card players to the hospital choking on orange and grape. Also injured in the melee was Mrs. Bess Corbett who was being presented her award as instructor of the year. Mrs. Corbett was struck in the head by a flying psych book. On April 8 eighteen agricultural apprentices were struck by apoplexy. Later that day the student body revolted when the milk machine gave sour milk. Everyone agreed it was an udder failure. On April 20 Mr. Malcolm Parker reported that someone stole the coloring book, and the library would be closed the following week. April 23 was proclaimed "Morice Gleason Day" by Queen Elizabeth II, and the student body reciprocated by coming to class dressed like Milton. Following the event the Dean cancelled classes for the rest of the month ... April Fool!

MAY

LSU-S students celebrated May Day with the Druids by joyfully sniffing flowers (among other things). As spring fever engulfed the campus, clothing became progressively more casual and more brief. An epidemic of sandals and cutoffs struck the school. The big event of the month was the distribution of Bagatelle. May of course, meant the end of school and that slaving ritual finals (again). Everyone sweated finals especially since the air-conditioner went out in the shack and hundreds of nicotine crazed poker players gagged on the fresh air. Many people were looking forward to their summer jobs. Or, if they were really lucky, they were going to summer school.

THE EDITOR GETS THE LAST WORD

With the completion of this page I will cease to be the active editor of the Bagatelle. The book will be complete and in the hands of the publisher. It has been a long year, and the publication of this book has been a great deal of trouble, yet it has been worthwhile. As editor of the Bagatelle, I have traveled over a thousand miles, met many people connected with yearbooking, and looked through hundreds of other college yearbooks. The 1970 Bagatelle is a combination of all those other books, drawing extensively from the yearbooks of Texas Tech, the University of Houston, and Yale.

Our goal this year was to create a more complete picture of the year. This has been done. The staff worked untiringly and with a great deal of originality to put all the activities of both semesters into this form. They have the satisfaction of knowing that the job was well done. There is little other compensation for serving on the Bagatelle staff. It is difficult work.

I should also like to thank all non-staff individuals who helped with the book this year, whether by typing and office work or simply by showing up to have their pictures made. A special thanks to Beverly Taylor and Sally Tooke for their collaboration in the writing of the poem in the opening section.

Lastly I should like to thank Mrs. Nancy Sexton for allowing me to edit the book with no previous experience and for allowing the staff to operate independently: free to create the kind of book we felt would be representative of the year. I am satisfied with the result. In looking back, I hope that you will be.
